VOL. CVXIIII.— 55. ALEXANDRIA, VIRGINIA, THURSDAY, MARCH 6, 1913. PRICE, 2 CENTS

WOMEN ARE AFTER MAJOR SYLVESTER

Suffragettes, Their Sympathizers and Others are on His Trail.

POLICEMEN EXPLAIN.

Indignant Would-Be Voters and Congresmen Demand Dismissal of Chief From His Position.

Washington, March 6.—With a senatorial investigating committee, delegations of suffragettes and suffragists, mere sympathizers, indignant spectators, and a few thousand others on his trail, Major Sylvester, chief of the District of Columbia police force, today was busy trying to explain the inadequate police protection given the suffrage marchers in their demonstration Monday.

A Senate sub-committee, headed by Senator Jones, was scheduled to meet at 1 o'clock today, at which time the date for the formal hearings on the matter will be set.

That the hearing, whatever its result, will be replete with incidents, seemed certain today. Indignant suffragettes and Congressmen have declared themselves eager to testify and resolutions from suffrage delegations who marched in the parade, demanding Sylvester's dismissal as head of the department, are pouring in.

The inadequate policing of the line of march, besides subjecting the women to insults, has assumed a serious aspect, with the illness of scores of the paraders from the rough treatment they suffered. There are numerous cases of hysteria and pneumonia among the suffragettes who paraded and as a result the "men folks" are demanding drastic action.

Local suffragettes are holding indignation meetings on the streets and in halls, and their burden of complaint is adding to the storm of disapproval that is raining on Major Sylvester's head.

ENTIRE BLOCK SOLD.

Vacant Land in Northwest Section Bought by Realty Company.

The square of ground surrounded by Oronoco, Fayette, Princess and Payne streets, has been sold by Richard C. Thompson, executor of the estate of Miss Ellen C. Daingerfield, deceased, to the Real Estate and Investment Corporation of Virginia, the officers of which are John G. Graham, V. Ward Boswell and G. Washington Lewis. A decree was entered in the Circuit Court this morning authorizing the sale and appointing Judge J. K. M. Norton, special commissioner to make the conveyance. The sale was made through Capt. R. F. Knox, real estate agent.

This square of ground is exceptionally well located and is one of the most valuable pieces of property in the city. The Corporation will probably within a short time subdivide the same into desirable building lots.

At the same time an order was entered permitting Richard C. Thompson, executor to revive the suit of the late Miss Daingerfield vs. Henry Daingerfield and others, in his name.

SUIT FOR $5,000 DAMAGES.

Circuit Court Ocupied Today With Talbert-Crilly Case—Judge J. B. T. Thornton Presiding.

The Circuit Court of Alexandria, Judge J. B. T. Thornton presiding, commenced the hearing of the suit of Eugene B. Talbert against Jeremiah H. Crilly for $5,000 damages this morning. The damages were claimed as a result of the plaintiff being run down by one of the defendant's wagons, at the corner of King and Royal streets. The jury is composed of the following: Samuel L. Monroe, Henry Baader, Robert S. Jones, Courtney Acton, John G. Cockey, Henry Schlichting, and C. R. Yates.

Judge C. E. Nicol and A. B. Nicol represent Talbert and Samuel C. Brent and Walter U. Varney, the defendant. The case will in all probability be given to the jury late this afternoon.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Severe snowstorms have caused terrible suffering among the troops at Tchatalja. Fifty or more outpost men have been frozen to death, and others so frostbitten that it was necessary to resort to amputation. The diplomatic wheel is turning slowly in the near East settlement. The powers are said to be at variance on the question of indemnity. It is said that Great Britain and France oppose the idea, while Russia favors it.

Levi P. Morton, Vice President in the Harrison administration, and former governor of New York, is seriously ill at his Fifth avenue residence, in New York. He is 89 years old. Mr. Morton is suffering from arterio-sclerosis.

An insurgent movement in the ranks threatens to import British methods for the prosecution o fthe "votes for women" fight in this country. Some dissatisfied members, who feel that "Gen." Rosalie Jones and her band of "hikers," were not treated just right by the officers of the national association, have banded together and formed tentative plans for holding a separate national convention in May. They say they are tired of "pink tea" methods, and want to get out and fight. The new organization will be formed under the auspices of the Mississippi Valley Suffrage association, which includes all organizations in the Central West Southern States. There will be delegates from the other organizations which object to the tame methods now employed. The regular national organization is to be ignored.

Mrs. Loren Davis returned to her home in Bethel, Conn., yesterday after a few minutes' absence, to find the house in flames, and her sons—Ralph, 3 years old, and Harold, 6 months—inside. When men refused to enter the building because of the danger, Mrs. Davis plunged through the flames and smoke, and staggered out a minute later with the younger child in her arms. Her clothing was afire, and she was badly burned. The child also was burned, and cannot live. The older boy perished in the flames.

Eight monuments on the Gettysburg Battlefied were badly damaged Tuesday night by a vandal, who evidently used a heavy hammer for his destructive work. That the destruction was the result of malice, and not of a craze o fa relic hunter, is evident from the fact that he broken pieces were not carried away but litter the ground.

With a written curse in his pocket directed against his family, George C. Coffin, a lawyer, dropped dead of heart disease in Brooklyn yesterday. Half an hour afterward as his body was being taken to the boarding place where he lived for the past two years, the clang of the patrol wagon bell and the sight of the dead man so excited Mrs. Rachel Law, living directly across the street, that she, too, dropped dead of heart disease. Coffin was separated from his family. In his pocekts were found a large sum of money and a letter which bore the writen curse directed against his family. The letter read: "To W. H. Blair, 250 Broadway, N. Y.: Mr. Blair—Cremate my body in case of death. If there is a funeral let not a single member of my family attend. A curse on them all."

Atlanta, Ga., the old home of "Archie" Butt, gave former President William H. Taft, a royal welcome yesterday. Indeed one would thought that Mr. Taft was some distinguished son of Augusta coming home after the greatest of honors had been bestowed upon him, judged by the number and enthusiasm of the welcoming party at the station when his train rolled in. This Democratic stronghold, however, has been strong for Mr. Taft as a man ever since the winter before his inauguration, when, as president-elect, he spent several months here. He came back several times as President, but the welcome which was given Mr. Taft, the private citizen, today, eclipsed all previous efforts.

PRESIDENT WILSON ENFORCES THE RULE

Refuses To Talk With Senators Who Desired to Name Candidates.

EXPLAINS PURPOSE.

Executive Will Not Receive Resignations of Assistant Secretaries, But Sends Them to Cabinet Heads.

Washington, March 6.—President Wilson's embargo on office-seekers, was put into literal operation by the President himself today, when he declined to consider an application for a Federal appointment.

Senators Fletcher and Bryan, of Florida, yesterday made an appointment to se the President at 10:30 this morning. He did not know the purpose of their visit when the engagement was made, but agreed to see them merely because they were Democratic United States Senators, whom he presumed had legitimate business with him. When they called today they told him they had come to recommend the appointment of a Federal Judge and a United States Attorney in the Southern district of Florida. President Wilson refused to receive the recommendations. With the greatest courtesy possible, but explained his ruling of yesterday against consideration of application for appointments, and told the Senators to make their recomendations to Attorney General McReynolds. He explained that he was determined to carry out literally and actually the policy which he anounced yesterday.

Senators Fletcher and Bryan had not had time to mention to the President the names of their candidates for the positions when he stopped them. Both of the Senators refused to discus sthe incident when they left President Wilson's office, but they did not seem to be offended.

Another precedent was shattered by President Wilson today. He received the resignation of all of the assistant secretaries in the various departments, and instead of acting on them himself, as previous presidents have done, directed that they be returned to the new cabinet heads for action. In other words it will be up to the various secretaries to determine whether their assistants "resignations shall be accepted.

Boy Terrorizes Streets.

Lynchburg, Va., March 6.—Lee Allen Thornhill, colored, aged 11 years, appeared before Mayor Smith Tuesday with a pair of cowboy gloves on and with the ar of confidence born of ignorance. Policeman Jim Paris arrested him for terrorizing Taylor St., for several moons past with a big .38 calibre Iver Johnson pistol. When searched the little negro had the gun in his inside pocket loade dall around with new cartridges, and ready for business. When found, he was about to engage in a fight with another small boy and it is doubtless lucky that the officer arrived when he did. When the boy tuned up to cry the court told him it was to late to bawl now. He was fined $21.25 and sentenc to a good thrashing.The court stated that he did not like the idea of sending him to jail for six months and thereby making a criminal out of him. and stated he couldn't get him in the reform scholo because it was full.

"We need our workhouse and farm for just such cases," remarked the court.

WOMEN INDIGNANT.

Bitter in Denunciation of the Washington Police.

The women who took part in the suffrage pageant in Washington on Monday returned to New York in white heat of indignation over the lack of protection given the marchers.

From the headquarters of the Woman's Political Union was sent the following telegram to President-elect Wilson just before inauguration:

President-elect Wilson, the Shoreham, Washington, D. C.

As you ride today in comfort and safety to the Capitol to be inaugurated as the President of the people of the United States, we beg that you will not be unmindful that yesterday the government, which is supposed to exist for the good of all, left women, while passing in peaceful procession in their demand for political freedom, at the mercy of a howling mob on the very streets which are being at this moment so efficiently officered for the protection of men.

HARRIOT STANTON BLATCH.
For the Women's Political Union.

Mrs. Nora Blatch de Forest claims she was struck in the face while a policeman was standing near. Some of the women were pinched black and blue, and the general feeling, she said, is that the police deliberately allowed the crowd to make things unpleasant for the marchers.

"There is no doubt that most of the neglect was intentional," said Mrs. de Forest. "One of the policemen told us so—said 'they didn't care whether they protected us or not.'

"There had been a terrible crush at one point. My mother, Mrs. Stanton-Blatch, told an officer he must look out for the crowd there, as the women were being crushed, and he replied:

" 'Oh, you go home.'

"This was before a lot of negroes and hoodlums. What could be expected after that?

"The general attitude was one of annoyance and negligence. The special police made no effort at all to keep back the crowd."

Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, national suffrage president, said:

"There was certainly no effort made to protect us. They did everything they could to belittle us and make our parade a failure.

"Of one thing I am certain, and that is that this made us many friends, there were so many men who were outraged by the treatment we received. I never saw an audience so stirred as the one at the massmeeting we held after the parade.

"I would like to say something about the Boy Scouts during the parade. Only lads, they helped more than all the police, and our own women rode their horses into the crowd."

MRS. COX'S RECITAL.

Those who were so fortunate as to hear Mrs. Cox sing in Alexandria last winter, will be glad to know that she will give a recital for the benefit of the Chapel of the Good Shepherd in the Norton Memorial, Tuesday, March 25th. Mrs. Cox studied abroad for several years under some of the most famous masters and her race contralto voice is perfectly trained. Mrs. Cox conducted successfully concerts in Switzerland, Germany Venice and Ireland. While abroad many offers came to her to go in opera, but in defference to the opinions of her father, a clergyman, she decided to confine her sell to oratoric and concert work. She has just returned from a concert tour through the West. The Sunday News, Boise City, speaking of her says Mrs. Cox has a rich, dramatic, contralto voice, clear and resonant, which added to a beautful personality seems to impart to her listeners the depth of pathos of the inspiration of the composer and delights all who hear her.

RAIN, SNOW AND HIGH WIND.

Variety of Weather Visits This City and Vicinity Within a Few Hours.

The clear weather of last night was followed by cloudy conditions at an early hour this morning, when there was a light rain. Later in the day heavier showers fell. About eleven o'clock the wind veered to the north, west and a heavy gale set in, sending clouds of dust through the streets and twisting limbs from trees.

A tree on the west side of Columbus street, near King was blown down, but no serious damage, as far as reported, was caused.

REBELLION GIVEN A NEW IMPETUS

Towns in State of Sonora Secede From Republic of Mexico.

RICH AND POPULOUS.

Huerta Notified That Any Atempt to Bring Government Troops Into Region Will be Resented.

Douglas, Ariz., March 6.—The Maderista rebellion in the north of Mexico was given new impetus today when couriers were sent out from Hermosillo, notifying all towns in the State of Sonora that the Senate Congress had formally receded from the public of Mexico and would defend itself from the intrusion of soldiers of Gen. Huerta.

Sonora is one of richest and populous states in Mexico. Provisional Governor Pasquiera, who was chosen by the congress to succeed Governor Maytorena, when the latter was ousted, acting for the congress, sent a message to Mexico City notifying Gen. Huerta that "any atempt to bring government troops into Sonora will be resented."

I am prepared to defend the state with my life," Paskuera announced. State troops are mounting cannon about the city and preparing entrenchments.

It is expected that Maderista followers in Sonora and other northern states will now rally to the flag of Sonora. State troops have already started south from Hermosilla, according to today's advices, destroying railroad bridges in order to prevent the advance of federals.

Gen. Obriegon has been chosen commander of the Sonora forces. It is expected that one of the first towns he will atack will be Auga Prieta, across the border from Douglas,which has been held by federals commanded by Gen. Ojeda. Nearly all the Mexicans living here are Maderista sympathizers. Sonora has greater mineral wealth than any Mexican state. Most of its mines and ranches are owned by Americans or Englishmen.

Girl is His Accuser.

Bristol, Va., March 6.—Curtis Morris, a prominent young clerk in a local merchandise house, was yesterday held for the Tennessee authorities to answer charges by Hafford Burnett, a pretty girl of 19 years,whose home is at Bluff City. The girl was present when Mayor Warren anounced that he would hold Morris.

Killed Baby Sister.

New York, March 6.—Little four-year-old Henry Corell, son of a policeman, is toddling about the Corell home at 204 East 124th street, today. He cannot undrestand why his mother is sobbing and moaning nor why his father looks at him so strangely. In the little front parlor o fthe flat is the dead body of his 20-months-old sister, Helen. She was killed early today by Henry who had found his father's pistol in a bureau drawer.

"Gun blew up and hurt Helen," prattled the little boy when asked about the tragedy and that is the only explanation possible to obtain.

The mother of the babies had gone to the store leaving the father who had just come off duty asleep in his room. The father awakened by the crash of a revolver shot, rushed into the other room to find his baby daughter dead and his little son standing over her with the pistol in his hand.

Mrs. Corel, returning home, found an ambulance at the door. Neighbors tenderly broke the news of the tragedy and she fell in a dead faint across the threshold.

CITY OF JANINA TAKEN BY GREEKS

Fortified Place in Epirus—32,000 Prisoners are Taken.

GREEK VESSELS SUNK.

Turkish Cruiser Attacks Twenty-Four Transport Off Athos—Soldiers On Three Vessels Drown.

Athens, March 6.—The Turkish fortified the city of Janian, in Epirus, surrendered today to the Greeks, who took 32,000 prisoners. The surrender was officially announced by the Greek war office.

Constantinople, March 6.—An official statement today said that the Turkish cruiser Hamidjeh sank three Greek transports with all on board, off Athos, instead of only one, as reported yesterday. Twenty-four Greek transports were conveying soldiers, mostly Servians, when the big warships attacked them. In rapid succession the Hamidjeh sent three of the vessels to the bottom and damaged several more, not allowing the other transports time to attempt any rescues.

LAWYER INDICTED.

Charged With Obstructing Administration of Justice.

Danville, Va., March 6.—Two sensations followed quickly in succession here yesterday in the Corporation nCourt. One was the grand jury's presentment of an indictment against Attorney Roy C. Coleman, charging him with obstructing the administration of justice, and the second the statement made in court by Judge Peatross that a juryman in the Hutson robbery case had been reported as been seen talking with a police officer, and with taking a drink with Hutson, the man upon whom he was passing sentence.

Coleman, who is one of the counsel in the Hutson case, is said to have been a party to a transaction with T. J. Pickert, one of the principal witnesses in the case, of which the grand jury became aware and into which it made a thorough probe with the above result. Coleman is not under bond, but he will be tried one day this week. He is still defending his client in the case. The accused attorney, who only a few days ago succeeded in obtaining the release from the penitentiary of Samuel Pruett, a young murderer, maintains that the charge is the result of spite work, and that he is anxious for an investigation. He promises to reveal some unknow nconditions now prevalent in the police force.

When the Hutson jury appeared in court and announced that after a day's deliberation it had been unable to agree,Judge Peatrocs stated that it had been reported that one of the jurymen had been seen in company with Hutson in a barroom, and had been seen talking with a policeman. He asked the guilty man to raise his hand. This the man failed to do and the jury was dismissed. The jury is very indignant and wants the matter airedn in order that the innocent may be exonerated.

Shelton on the charge of stealing a gold watch, valued at $50, from Engineer Smith, of the steamer Hilton, which arrived at this port a few days ago from Florida with phosphate rock to the Alexandria Fertilizer and Chemical Company.

Shelton was brought into the Police Court later, when the officers testified that Shelton had sold the watch to a conductor on the electric railway for $4.

Smith stated that he drank himself drunk last night and while in that condition lost his watch or somebody took it from his person.

The police claimed that Shelton was seen with Smith.

BLIND MEN IN THE DOCK.

Both Liberated Upon Promising to Shake Dust of City From Their Feet

George Lomax, a young colored man, who for sometime has been a familiar figure at the northeast corner of King and Columbus streets, where he poses as a blind man, was found in a drunken condition last night and was arrested by Officer Campbell. George was also disorderly. Upon being placed in the dock in the Police Court this morning he made no attempt to refute the charges urged against him, but promised the court to leave the city for Franconia, Fairfax county, if the charge were dismissed. He said his sister would meet the train at that place. Lomax has been in Alexandria during the past few years.

Officer Campbell also arrested an old German, who is blind and minus his right hand, who was armed with an accordeon. He was found in the street unaccompanied and unable to take care of himself. He gave his name as Abraham May, and said he was from New York state, but had lately been residing in Fredericksburg. He promised the court to return to the latter place if dismissed. The court directed officers to place both on a southbound train.

BACHELOR'S CLUB ELECTS.

Annual Meeting of Popular Social Organization Held Last Night.

At the annual meeting of the Bachelor's Club, one of Alexandria's most popular social organizations, which was held in their club rooms on King street last night, the following officers were elected to serve for the year: Douglass Stuart, president; W. W. Ballenger, vice-president; Orlando H. Kirk, secretary; Charles E. Tennesson, treasurer. These officers with J. William May will constitute the board of governors. Reports showed that the club was in a very prosperous condition.

VISITORS RETURNING.

Many people from Norfolk and vicinity who attended the inauguration ceremonies in Washington Tuesday returned last night.

The steamer Southland on Tuesday carried 476 people, the full number that she is allowed to carry by law. The Northland last night a like number. The steamer Newport News also carried back the 400 naval sailors and others who participated in the parade and who had liberty for sightseeing in Washington yesterday.

CHASED WIFE WITH A PISTOL.

Andrew Lomax, colored, was arrested yesterdy on complaint of his wife, Elizabeth Lomax, who alleged that the accused while drunk attacked her with a pistol. According to her statement, she succeeded in indueing him to give her money with which to pay the house rent. Lomax later became drunk and returning home with a white man demanded the return of part of the money. The wife told her husband she had turned the money over to the agent of the owner of the house, whereupon the accused procured a pistol and terrified her by threatening to use it. Officer Roland later arrested Lomax. He was fined $5 in the Police Court this morning.

Of principal interest in the House Garments are the Negliges, Boudior Gowns and Matinee Suits of lovely, soft materials; white and colored Mulls, figured Swisses, French Lawns and Batistes, in empire and straight effects. Crepe de Chine, Silk Negliges, Kimonos and Petticoats are prominent. Fine Silk Peticoats, all the new and fashionable colors. Our exclusive Corsets form an exhibit that in extensiveness and correctness is supreme in its excellence.

Designers have never been so eager to comply with the exact demands of the American woman, and the result is that while the fashions displayed here are essentially Parisian, the models, in the majority are adaptations of and nor original Paris creations, and embody features so clearly American that they are conferrd greater favor than the original Paris models formerly were. This feature relates only to the styles, however; many of the finer materials are still imported, and these exquisite foreign textures and ideas, harmoniously blended with American desires, bring out modes truly magnificent, and more appealing to American women than ever before.

NEWS OF THE OLD DOMINION.

KILLS VIRGINIA BRIDE.

Murderer Attempts Suicide After the Crime.

Baltimore, Md., Mrch 6.—Barrett R. Clark, real estate dealer of Arlington, a suburb of Baltimore, yesterday shot and killed his bride of four months, and then shot himself through the head. He is not expected to live.

The tragedy took place in the presence of Mrs. Clark's sister, Miss Wine, who ran screaming from the scene and spread the alarm.

When a crowd gathered Clark was standing, braced up against the half-open doorway, pointing his pistol at the crowd, and holding them at bay. When, finally, a rush was made toward him, he dropped to the floor, unconscious. The pistol was then found to be empty. The murdered woman was a Miss Nan Wine, of Broadway, Va., and they were married in Philadelphia about four months ago. She was 21 years old and he a widower of 32.

Marital quarrels that began soon after the wedding culminated in the tragedy today. Quarrels were of frequent occurrence, it is alleged, Clark being said to have been jealous of his wife, who was quite a handsome woman. Several times she had gone back to her home in Virginia, and on her return recently she brought her sister with her.

Yesterday morning there was another quarrel, and Mrs. Clark having become afraid of her husband, again decided to return to Virginia with her sister. They had packed up for that purpose when Clark appeared and shot her down.

The murdered woman was Clark's second wife. His first wife died some years ago, and he married Miss Wine.

Miss Frankie Wine, the sister of the murdered woman, who saw the tragedy, is in the home of neighbors in a critical condition. Becoming hysterical as she spread the alarm, she lapsed into unconsciousness, and at a late hour yesterday was still in a state of coma.

Dashing from the house where she had been visiting shouting, "He's killed my sister!" she fell in the roadway.

Only broken sentences and screams came from the mouth of the young woman lying prostrate in the roadway.

FORGED NAME OF LAWYER.

Young Man Gets $50 From Each of Three Lynchburg Merchants. ...

Lynchburg, Va., March 6. — The Lynchburg police are wanting very much to locate a young white man who gave his name as Ainslie, and who seems to be about as slick as check flashers generally are. He has flown, leaving three local merchants to hold the bag.

The stranger went to the law office of Fred Harper Monday and retained that lawyer to represent him in a suit in Florida. He had reached there just about lunch time, and when Mr. Harper started to go to lunch he invited Ainslie to go with him.

Instead of accepting the invitation Ainslie said he said some letters to write, and asked for the use of Mr. Harper's typewriter. This was readily agreed to, and Mr. Harper went to lunch, leaving the office in charge of his prospective client.

After that Ainslie had three checks of $50 each cashed by Main street merchants, checks being made payable to the young man, to which he forged Mr. Harper's name, after having filled them out on Mr. Harper's typewriter. Last night Ainslie was seen at the Kemper street railway station, but he escaped in darkness and has not ben heard of since. He got six checks out of the back of the attorney's check book, and the police are wandering when and where the other three will bob up.

Meanwhile Ainslie has decamped, having had three of the checks cashed.

THIRD RESPITE FOR ALLENS.

Extension to March 28, But Governor Does Not Indicate Fate.

Richmond, Va., March 6.—Governor Mann issued a brief statement yesterday afternoon to the effect that he had respited Floyd and Claude Allen under sentence to die in the electric chair Friday morning, until March 28, and that his statement relative to the condemned men would be issued today.

The Governor, however, gave no intimation as to the ultimate fate of the men. This is the third respite the Governor has granted the men convicted of the murder of Judge Thornton L. Massie, Sheriff Lew Webb and Commonwealth's Attorney Foster, of Carroll county, in the courtroom at Hillsville on March 14 of last year.

The concensus o fopinion is that Governor Mann wil lallow the law to take its course on March 28.

FIGHT FOR LIFE AT SEA.

Terrible Experience of Schooner's Crew During Storm.

Newport News, Va., March 6.—Water-logged, her deck house smashed, her cabin washed out and her rigging badly damaged, as a result of a terrible punishment received from wind and sea the 3-masted schooner, J. Manchester Baynes, Captain Rixon, was towed into port here yesterday by the revenue cutter Onondaga.

The Haynes was struck by a violent storm last Thursday afternon while bound up the coast from Jacksonville to Boston with a cargo of lumber. The crew battled against the storm, but the wind and the mountainous seas were too much for the little ship. She lost her deck load and filled up to her deck, leaving the crew to live on the deck for two days before the revenue cutter came to the rescue. With the cabin washed out, the galley filled and only such food as could be fished out and eaten without cooking to sustain life, the crew were nearly exhausted when the Onondaga picked them up off Cape Lookout Monday.

RELEASED ON $5,000 BOND.

Former City Treasurer of Danville Arrives From Buenos Aires.

Danville, Va., March 6.—William S. Paylor, former city treasurer, who left this city on July 17, who was indicted by the grand jury in September for embezzlement of $9,000 of State funds, and who on December 5th was arrested at Buenos Aires, South America, arrived in the city Tuesday.

In court the Commonwealth's Attorney asked the court that Paylor's trial be set for next Monday, giving Paylor time to prepare also Commonwealth time to get certain witnesses from Richmond. Paylor has intimated that he does not want counsel which leads one to suppose that he will plead guilty. As soon as the date was approved Paylor made application for release on bail, and John E. Hughes, a prominent citizen, and W. R. Purdum Paylor's brother-in-law, went on his security. Five thousand dollars was the bond asked. After the bondsmen were sworn Paylor was released, the first time he has been free since December 5, when an Argentine detective found him sitting in a park in Buenos Aires, arrested him and placed him in the Buenos Aires jail, to await the coming of a Virginia officer to bring him back to this country.

NORFOLK WINS.

Will Be Headquarters of Consolidated Customs District of Virginia.

Norfolk, Va., March 6.—Norfolk's victory for supremacy in the custom's consolidation project as promulgated by President Taft was complete and this city will be headquarters of the Consolidated Customs District of Virginia, effective July 1st. Republican National Committeeman, Alvah H. Martin, who remained in Washington until the President had finally acted in the matter, found it necessary to make two personal appeals to Mr. Taft, after the others of the Norfolk committee left in order to bring about the final victory which made Norfolk an individual port and gave her supremacy by designation as the chief port of entry for the State with headquarters here. Mr. Martin was much satisfied with the result.

The consolidation means that the 165 customs districts of the country are reduced to 49 and that the 49 Collectors of Customs to preside over these districts will be named by President Wilson in time for them to assume office on July 1st.

The only thing that could prevent this would be action by the new Congress, which convenes in extra session April 1st, and aproved of such action by President Wilson.

The consolidation project was an economy measure put through in the last Democratic Congress and the rider to the general deficiency bill offered in the Senate on Sunday last was killed in the House by reason of the opposition of Democratic Leaders Underwood and Fitzgerald. There would seem to be little chance of any change of the Taft promulgation by the new Congress because it was under a Democratic act that Mr. Taft issued his executive order reducing the Customs Districts.

Norfolk having been designated as headquarters for the new Customs district and the customs business being on the coast the new Chief Collector will naturally be designated from these communities. The appointment will be one of the first in this section to be made by President Wilson.

With the headquarters at Norfolk there will be chief deputies for the new Customs Houses at Newport News, Richmond, Petersburg, Cape Charles, Chincoteague and Reedville. These positions will pay much more than the present Deputy Collectors at these places are receiving and the deputyships will probably be much sought after by Newport News, Richmond, Petersburg, Cape Charles, Chincoteague, and Reedville Democrats.

The districts include Virginia (except Alexandria county): Norfolk, Newport News, Richmond, Petersburg, Cape Charles City, Chincoteague, Reedville.

Will be Commited to Asylum.

Suffolk, Va., March 6.—The case against George P. Rouse for arson in Isle of Wight county Tuesday, came to an abrupt close when the physicians composing the lunacy commission completed their investigations and reported that owing to the physical condition of the prisoner they could not permit him to go into trial at present.

They did not find him insane in this report. Stress was laid on his physical condition.

The commission recommended that Rouse be sent to the asylum at Marion for treatment and further observation.

UNFAIR CRITICISM OF INAUGURATION.

In an article published in yesterday's Washington Post, James F. J. Archibald, a fellow ofthe Royal Geographical Society of England, and a war correspondent makes a comparison of the inauguration with that of the coronation much to the disadvantage of the former. He says:

"The one dominant note of discord when comparing President Wilson's inauguration to the coronation of King George V is shown in the horses and in the police arrangements, Of course, our unifroms lack the brilliant color and the spectacular finish of the British, but where our uniform is well worn it is as attractive as any in the world. Nothing could have been better than the showing made yesterday by the Massachusetts and the Delaware divisions and the Fourth regiment of Virginia, garbed as they were in their regulation outfit. The Richmond Blues, the West Point, Annapolis, Virginia Military Institute, and Culver battalions were magnificent in their special uniforms, but even the regular uniform is an attraction in itself. The regular troops looked businesslike, and that is saying all that can be said. But otherwise there was hardly an organization that would have passed a blind drill sergeant in England."

It is easy enough to pick flaws in the parade of Tuesday but the latter part of Mr. Archibald's criticism is most unjust. The militia of the various states are not trained troops like those of England but are volunteers whose equipment and training largely depends upon the legislative whims of the state politicians. They are far from being up to the standard prescribed by the Unted States army regulations, and realized by everyone who has seen the regulars and volunter side by side.

Mr. Archibald's criticism of the horses is equally unjust. He makes the broad statement that "the very best mount in yesterday's parade would have difficulty in being accepted as a trooper's mount in any cavalry regiment in England." This is a sweeping statement for any man of intelligence to make. While it is true there were many poor horses in the parade, because the staff of the various governors, some of the governors themselves, many of the aides and others connected with the state organizations were compelled to hire horses form the livery stables in Washington, there were many animals in the parade in our opinion which would compare with the very finest horses to be found in the English service or for that matter in any country in the world.

The most unjust criticism in the entire article was the reference to the police arrangements. We justly criticised the police department of Washington for the miserable showing made in handling the suffragette parade on Monday, but the arangement yesterday was nearly as perfect as it could be.

Mr. Archibald says;

"Nothing could have been more inadequately planned nor more insufficiently carried out than the police arrangements in Washington yesterday. I would incline to be more charitable to the local police if I had not seen the criminally negligent work at the time of McKinley's funeral, where several were killed and many hurt, and had not seen them fail so lamentably at the suffragette pageant on the day before yesterday.

"It is noticeable that whenever they get into a tight place they use brutal methods and irritate, rather than try to remedy the cause. The police do not seem to realize that it is not the man against the rope who is pushing his way into the line or march, but that it is the crowd behind him. At Ninth street and the avenue yesterday, half an hour before the parade started, I saw a policeman knock a woman's hat off with his club and choke her escort back with a blow in the throat with his open hand because they did not obey his order to move back when there were hundreds pushing them forward from behind. I saw a gray haired old ladly of evidently gentle circumstances literally dragged along by two unkempt special policemen, one colored, and one white and shoved into a mass of crowding humanity because she had fallen,half fainting, under the ropes into the street at a time when they were trying to push back a crowd of hundreds surging in from a side street.

The special policemen who stood at the upper gate of the White House at the end of the President's reviewing stand was typical of the stage tramp, in a ragged coat, green with age, a rough brown cap, and a three or four day's beard on his face,and yet it was the man who pointed out to many of our foreign diplomatic visitors their direction to the President stand, and this without taking down his leg, which was swung over a post. If the numbers of our police are so inadequate, then would it not be better to call the military to do the policing?"

The writer of this article, spent eight hours within the police lines on Tuesday. He walked the length of Pensylvania Avenue on both sides of the street and spoke to practically every policeman on duty from the White House to the Capitol. He was impressed with their extreme neatness, their smart appearance and the patience and courtesy they exhibited to the crowd that vainly pushed at the barriers. There were few arrests made, practically no disorder, and the crowd was kept behind the lines and the entire manner of handling the big gathering was excellent. It is true that there were some special policemen who were neither well dressed or overly clean, but is the police department of Washington to merit condemnation because of their employment for a few hours' special duty?

Mr. Archibald points out that the civic portion of the parade was uninteresting and unnecessary. To us it was the most remarkable part of the whole pageant, as it represented the political significance of the occasion, something which Mr. Archibald was perhaps unable to understand. They were the flower of Democracy sweeping along the great avenues to see that the man who was chosen as their chief servant was suitably installed into office.

Election in London.

London, March 6.—The casual visitor would hardly know there was a municipal election in London today, unless he should read of it in the newspapers. Although Londoners are tday electing 118 members of the London County Council, who in the ensuing year will spend about $75,00,000, the tax-payers' money, it was unlikely that more than 60 per cent of the qualified voters would go to the polls.

Bryan's Surprising Speech.

William Jennings Bryan, in addressing the assistant secretaries and heads of the various bureaus of the State Department, yesterday declared:

"I am not prepared to discuss tenure in office. My own tenure is, as I was about to say, brief, but my tenure has not even begun. I am sure your tenure is, therefore, not more uncertain than mine.

"I have not had time to learn from the President the general policy that will be impressed on the various departments. But it is not necessary for us to discuss the length of service. It is sufficient at this time to make each other's acquaintance and I hope that when the time comes to reassemble you to introduce you to my successor I can look back upon as delightful associations as the retiring secretary does."

Mr. Bryan's words caused surprise but he followed them with no explanation.

OLD CHRIST CHURCH.

Years untold has old Christ Church stood guard in her dignity
Over the generations past, through the nation's history,
Born in the glad colonial days, she clings, like a modest maid,
To the by-gone, quaint old-fashioned style, ancient and prim and staid,
She stands as our grandsires saw her stand,.
Noble, imposing, majestic, grand.

Firm as Gibraltar's Rock she stood,
while the struggling colonies
Wrested their freedom, dearly bought,
from British tyrannies,
As a beacon-light to those who led in the pitiless, grim, campaign,
She beckoned them back, when their work was done, to the blessings of peace again.
And she saw a people little known
As a sovereign nation rise full-grown.

She saw the years of the civil strife,
When the gray and the blue engaged,
And she knows some tales of those awful days which the writers have never paged.
Then she witnessed the terrible days that came when the victors' cruel demand
Was paid in the South's red heart-blood torn from a burdened and stricken land.
She saw, she knew, she understood,
She forgave the wrong and she blessed the good.

And the coming years will find Christ
Church, as the years long passed have found,
A monument to the days gone by,
standing on hallowed ground,
And our children's children there will find a joy that's most complete.
And the thought of those who have worshipped there will bring a solace sweet.
Ah! there she'll be on that sacred sod,
A temple that's pointing the way to God.

We're sure Chief Goods would never have been guilty of the discourtesy that is charged against Chief Sylvester.

They kept the crowds back Tuesday, all right. We saw several of our citizens on the South side of the avenue crying bitterly. Shoomaker is on the North side of the Avenue.

We're going to pat ourselves on the back. Our Governor was certainly good looking on that blazed faced bay horse. And Captain Slaymaker's company delivered the goods to our entire satisfaction.

At the p'rade Tuesday,
We heard the people yell
'Who's that ridin' past us,
Who looks so mighty swell?"

Some guy from Alexandria
Said, "Don't you know, by jing?
That isn't Pres'dent Wilson,
That's just our Major King."

MARSHALL ASKS PRIVACY.

Vice-President, Annoyed by Visitors Wants a Place Where he Can Discard Dignity.

Hundreds of inaugural visitors who thronged into Vice-President Marshall's office yesterday disturbed the equilibrium of the Vice-President's first day of official duties that he has determined to ask for a new room over in the Senate office building, where he can "put his feet on the desk and smoke a cigar in peace."

The vice-president's single office-room adjoins one of the main corridors near the Senate and through long customs its door remains open to the public. Mr. Marshall, early at his desk, found that he had to do business in the full view of the passing crowds, which frequently surged in and demanded the visitors' prerogative of shaking hands.

"I don't see that this room differs much from a monkey cage," said the Vice-President, during a lull in the constant reception, "except that the visitors do not offer me any peanuts."

The Vice-President managed to maintain his dignity throughout the day,but he confided to friends that he was determined to get a retiring room, where he could drop his official pose and get a little privacy.

Another change that will be necessary in Senate accomodations to meet the demands of the newcomers is the providing of a special chair for Senator Ollie M. Jamts, of Kentucky, who enjoys the distinction of being the biggest man in that body. Mr. James found the armchairs used by the senators "crowded him too much." Senator Penrose and other giants of the Senate, has a special size chair, and a new one of the same dimensions has been ordered for Senator James.

A New Kind of Roofing

Asphalt Gravel, That Will Last Ten Years—Can be Used Anywhere.

Cumberland, Md. — Among the many improvements at the new Y. M. C. building is the asphalt gravel roof (Security brand), that was put on under direction of Mr. Adam May.

A fairy tale is told about this roofing by Mr. A. M. Strickland, of Elkton, Md. About fifteen years ago he built the Elkton Foundry and covered the roof with Security Asphalt Gravel roofing and four years afterward the building and contents were consumed by fire. Nothing was left but the walls and roofing.

Being of an economical turn of mind he ordered the carpenters to cut down the roofing in strips, losing only the laps.

He used these strips of roofing on the new foundry building and it is in good condition today after ten years of active service.

It would be difficult to believe such a tale, because tin, iron and slate or any other composition roofing would have gone to smash or curled up and blown away in such a conflagration.

There is reason to believe that this true, because it stood the test in a similar fire in the B. & O. hay shed at Mt. Clare Station, Baltimore, some years ago.

This roofing can be purchased of Allenists yesterday examined the first "crank" of the Wilson administration. The man gave his name as Dr. Charles A. Schwab, of Dallas, Texas. He is being detained in the Washington asylum, in which institution he was placed Tuesday when arrested by Secret Service men on his arrival in Washington. The man said he was on his way to the White house to be sworn in as President and he had in his possession a number of written messages purporting to have been sent to him by Chief Justice White, of the Supreme Court. It is believed that he wrote them himself.

MUSTEROLE

No Plaster! No Blister!

Everybody knows how the good old fashioned mustard plaster relieves a cold, an ache or a pain.

Your mother and your grandmother always applied it. The plaster burned awfully. But it surely brought relief.

MUSTEROLE is the same remedy without the plaster and without the blister.

MUSTEROLE is a clean, white ointment, made with the oil of mustard. You don't have to bother with a cloth. You simply rub Musterole on the spot where the pain is—rub it on briskly—and the pain is gone!

Not a blister is left, even on tender skin! Instead it has a delicious, comforting effect.

There is nothing like MUSTEROLE for Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Tonsilitis, Croup, Stiff, Neck, Asthma, Neuralgia, Headache, Congestion, Pleurisy, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Pains and Aches of the Back or Joints, Sprains, Sore Muscles, Bruises, Chilblains, Frosted Feet, Colds of the Chest (it prevents pneumonia). Millions of jars of MUSTEROLE are sold annually. It is a staple in the large hospitals. Doctors and nurses use it and recommend it to patients. Ask your doctor.

At your druggist's, in 25c and 50c jars, and a special large hospital size for $2.50.

If your druggist cannot supply you, send 25c or 50c to the Musterole Company, Cleveland, O., and we will mail you a jar postpaid.

Doctors tell How Musterole Relieves.

Dr. J. P. Frey, Chicago, Ill., says: "I prescribe your Musterole every day. Use it in all cases of alveolar abscess and inflammation."

Salves Can't Cure Eczema

In regard to skin diseases, medical authorities are now agreed on this:

Don't imprison the disease germs in your skin by the use of greasy salves, and thus encourage them to multiply.

A true cure of all eczematous diseases can be brought about only by using the healing agents in the form of a liquid.

WASH THE GERMS OUT

A simple wash: A concentrated oil of Wintergreen, Thymol, and other ingredients as combined in the D.D.D. Prescription. This penetrates to the disease germs and destroys them, then soothes and heals the skin as nothing else has ever done.

A 50 cent bottle will start the cure and give you instant relief.

We have made fast friends of more than one family by recommending this D.D.D. Prescription to a skin sufferer here and there, and we want you to try it now on our positive pay guarantee. D.D.D. Soap keeps the pores clean; ask us.

"My Guests Are Coming Tomorrow!"

When expecting guests, the housewife often finds it necessary to call upon the local dealers for quick service. A window-shade breaks, or a new rug is needed—perhaps the piano needs tuning—or something special in the way of food supplies may be wanted. It's handy to step to the telephone and order what is needed. Telephone orders always receive prompt attention.

NO LEGAL VERBIAGE THERE

Mary Newhard of Allentown, Pa., Wrote Will in Her Own Homely Way, and It Stands.

E. W. German, register of wills of Lehigh county, admitted to probate the most remarkable will offered here in a century. It was written by Mary Newhard of Laurays, who left several hundred dollars in personal property. It reads:

"I guess it is about time I want my things fixed after I am gone, because I have nobody to depend on except my sisters. I hope they see to things and do it in the way I want it done. It is a great task, but it cannot be fixed otherwise. They always helped me along. I want them to divide my clothes among them, because I have no children, so they are nearest. I have a good lot of things that have to be sold for expenses and then I guess it will reach to bury me decently.

"Such things as my big copper kettle and tubs, washing machine, sewing machine, watch, bedroom suit, bureau, chest, trunk, waiters (two nice ones), casters and other articles are to be sold. There is also a stovepipe in the garret belonging to the parlor stove, a dozen sauce dishes I believe they don't need and a white gravy bowl I paid a quarter for, and two big glass stands, which are to be sold.

"His bedstead, which lays in the garret, I paid a dollar to get it stained and varnished. He can keep that for Mary if he wants to keep her, and my new dough trough I also want sold. I owe a little at Labach's and I want that paid if there is any money left. I can't do it in my lifetime any more. Yours in hope."—Allentown (Pa.) Register.

WHY CALLED "BLACK MARIA"

Boston Negress of Colonial Times Responsible for Designation of Police Patrol Wagon.

A terror to evildoers was the real original Black Maria, and quite as useful in helping to keep the peace as the black maria of today. Black Maria lived in Boston and in Colonial times. She was a gigantic negress, named Marie Lee, and she was mistress of a sailors' boarding house down near the wharves.

Sailors came to her from all over the world. They were often a wild, rough set, but they never gave Maria any trouble, for her huge size was well balanced by her prodigious strength. It is told that she once brought three drunken sailors at once to the lockup when they had grown too obstreperous to be kept longer in the house.

The fame of Maria's strength grew, so that she became of great assistance to the authorities, for when men got to be violent or quarrelsome Black Maria was sent for and soon reduced the unruly to obedience. In time her reputation spread all over Boston, and the lawless element grew so afraid of her that often the threat of sending for Black Maria was enough to quell the worst cases of insubordination.

Few people know of Black Maria Lee as the boarding house keeper of Colonial days, but she handed her name down as a menace to the vicious of future generations, in the modern jail wagon. To "send for the black maria" is as much of a threat now as it was in Maria Lee's time.

How They Managed.

Expensively shod and gowned, hatted in wide-brimmed, costly creations from which depended closely enveloping, intricately fastened veils, they sat on a cross seat on the "L" train. One held an open box of alluring chocolates in her daintily gloved hand. "Will they extricate their lips from their inextricably fastened veils to partake of them or are the sweets to form for the present merely a visual feast?" wondered the spectator.

"Have one, Sade," the holder of the chocolates said to her companion. And Sade consented.

"Now," thought the spectator, "all will be revealed!" And so it was. Sade and her companion simultaneously lifted the lumps of sweetness to their expectant lips and sucked and nibbled happily—through their veils!

Waterproof Seven-League Boots.

Here is the great and only way Jack greased his seven league boots and waterproofed and snowproofed them. Melt in an earthen crock, over a very slow, gentle fire, half a pint of linseed oil (good, raw oil), one ounce of beeswax, or paraffin, half an ounce of rosin and one ounce of oil of turpentine. If new boots or shoes are soaked and well rubbed with this warm, greasy mixture, then left to hang in a warm place for a week or ten days, not only will they be entirely waterproof, but the leather will be soft and pliable. The soles may be waterproofed by painting on a coat of gum copal varnish, repeating it from time to time until it is a smooth job and all the pores of the leather are filled.

Pretty, But Useless.

Mrs. Hugh Fraser tells a story of a holiday spent in an out-of-the-way part of Italy.

She had occasion to reward a countryman for some service with a gold coin. Apparently, he had never seen such a thing before, for he looked at it dubiously for a moment, and then said: "It is very pretty, but I think I would rather have money, please."

When the same sum was counted out to him in silver he took it with loud protestations of gratitude, and went away feeling, apparently, like a millionaire.

MATERIAL IS NOT ALL

LINES OF THE BLOUSE AN ALL-IMPORTANT CONSIDERATION.

Dainty Needlework and Fine Fabrics Inartistically Put Together Will Not Satisfy the Woman of Fastidious Taste.

The woman who loves to do dainty needlework can turn out very attractive blouses at much less expense than similar models would cost in the shops; but it should be remembered that dainty needlework and fine fabrics are not all that is required to make up a wearable blouse. Several costly materials may be combined with exquisite nicety of stitchery, yet the effect of the completed blouse may be hopelessly bad, and quite impossible to the woman who aims to dress inexpensively, with perfect taste and some degree of smartness. As in all forms of costumes nowadays, lines are the important consideration in the separate waist, and if the lines are not right, the most costly of materials will not make it smart. In fact, the more of such materials loaded upon the model the more will the effect approach that taste which is familiarly known as dowdy.

There are three distinct varieties of blouses to select from—the costume blouse of silk, velvet, lace, chiffon or a combination of fabrics; the shirt of tub silk for wear with tailored suits, and the tub blouse of ordinary washable lingerie material. Blouses of the last named character are easy to fashion, and may be made dainty with a very little real lace, with fine pin tucks set in by hand or with touches of hand embroidery—only touches, for a great amount of hand embroidery is not considered smart just now, and scallops or dots used in a conventional manner are better liked than sprawling floral patterns. Very sheer cotton voile, handkerchief linen, or a fine grade of dotted Swiss will make attractive blouses of this sort.

A silk shirt may be of white or striped tub silk, of washable satin or of crepe de chine. The white crepe de chine shirts, with plaited frills and turndown collars and edged with fine cording, are the favorites, and such shirts usually have turned back cuffs, provided with link buttons, which match the buttons used on the front of the garment.

There are also many attractive blouses being shown of white silk brocade or white charmeuse. These blouses are usually made quite simple of line, and in some cases have the turned down Robespierre collar and mannish, four-in-hand tie and turned back cuffs.

An attractive blouse of charmeuse of the tailored type is shown in the illustration. The collar is of the Robespierre type, with four-in-hand tie. There is a deep yoke, which extends low over the shoulders. The sleeves are long and are fulled into a deep, close-fitting cuff of the material.

MARY DEAN.

Chenille-Dotted Veilings.

Many varieties of veilings were in evidence at the New York Horse show, says the Dry Goods Economist, but chenille-dotted novelties were perhaps in the lead. Dainty spring designs, outlined in miniature chenille dots or decorated in some odd fashion, were especially prominent. The part which chenille-dotted veilings played at this fashionable gathering will no doubt be influential in boosting the already fair demand for chenille dots in local retail stores. The country at large has bought conservatively of these novelties, and in the majority of instances has done well with them.

Gathered Muff.

The huge granny muff made of gathered and corded silk, velvet, brocade or chiffon is very fashionable this season. It is besides quite simple to make, looks much more chic than a muff of poor imitation fur. Blue and red shot taffeta is used for a pretty model. Two thickness of wadding form the lining on to which the silk is gathered and divided into sections with piping cords. Wide frills of the silk finish off the muff on either side.

Warm Coats.

The indications are that velvet, plush and velour are going to be popular this winter. This will be welcome news for the women who desire a nice, warm coat and do not care to wear the really heavy fur garments which have been used for the last few years.

ANOTHER FAILURE.

Thaw Abandons Suit And Returns to Matteawan.

New York, March 6.—Harry Kendall Thaws latest attmpet to secure his freedom from the asylum for the criminal insane at Matteawan failed today. Thaw, acting at the request of Dr. Charles Kennedy, a recently admitted practitioner, had himself produced before Justice Giegerich in the Supreme Court on a writ of habeas corpus. The plan was to force a jury trial. But when Thaw's family learned that the state intended to use the proceedings as a lever to open up the entire scandal growing out of the charge that Thaw had planned to bribe officials of Matteawan to secure his liberty, they promptly vetoed the proceeding.

The result was that when the case was called before Justice Giegerich, Henry Hirschberg, of Newburgh, who said that he was "this defendants personal counsel," demenaded permission to withdarw the writ. After a lengthy legal wrangle this request was granted, the entire proceeding abandoned, and Thaw taken back to the asylum.

While it did not appear in open court, Hirschberg admitted on leaving the court that the recently developed scandal was responsible for the abandonment of the proceeding.

Disorderly Section Hands.

Trenton, N. J., March 6.—Five hundred section hands of the Pennsylvania railroad, marching in army style and displaying revolvers and clubs, left this city at noon and after breaking the gate of the Calhoun street bridge across the Delaware, advanced in an attack upon the West Morrissville, Penn., yards. When they reached the railroad property, one of the laborers fired a shot but no damage was done. One hundred special officers and employes of the company armed with clubs met the strikers but were outnumbered. The mob succeeded in getting a number of strike breakers to join their ranks, and then, with guns flashing, made a dash for the round house.

In the rush to the round house about two hundred shots were exchanged between the mob and the officers and three of the strikers were wounded. They were hurried away by their fellows. The strikers claimed 125 men jointed their ranks at the yards.

Pennsylvania railroad hands are striking for shorter hours and increased pay and have been controlling the road from Philadelphia to New York.

WIN INJUNCTION.

Order Restraining Sale of Richmond Made Product.

Richmond, Va., March 6.—On the ground that the Virginia Syrup Company's "Crescent Coco-Cola," constitutes an infringement on the trade mark held by the Coco-Cola Co., of Atlanta, Judge Edmund Waddill, Jr., of the United States District Court yesterday granted the Georgia company's prayer for a perpetual injunction enjoining the Richmond concern from marketing its product under the present name.

The Virginia Syrup Company, incorporated, under laws of this state with offices in this city, placed on the market in July, 1911, a soft drink under the name of "Crescent Coca-Cola." The Coca-Cola Co., of Atlanta, manufacturers of a well known fountain drink, bearing its name, on December 11, 1911, filed a bill of complaint in the United States District Court in Richmond, setting forth that the marketing of the new drink was an infringement on its trade mark and was calculated to injure its business.

The Atlanta Company claimed that the name "Coca-Cola" as applied to a fountain drink was secured to it by a copyright in the Patent office, granted on January 31, 1893. Previous to that time it was stated, the product was copyrighted under the name of "Coca-Cola Syrup and Extract." The last named designation was patented in 1886.

Lawyers for both sides argued the case before Judge Waddill last December. The complainants, besides alleging infringement, claimed heavy damages on the ground that "Crescent Coca-Cola" resembling their own product in appearance, color and consistency had been frequently substituted for it at soda fountains when patrons called for Coca-Cola. Letters were offered in evidence by the Atlanta Company in support of this allegation.

The application for an injunction set forth further that the Coca-Cola Company of Atlanta, had spent more than $6,000,000 in advertising is product and establishing it as a staple article of commerce, charging that the vending of the Richmond product under a similar name was injuring the reputation of its own well known compound.

MINISTER SUES CITY.

Claims $250 Damages For Alleged Injuries to His Horse.

Danville, March 6.—A suit was entered against the city Saturday by Rev. J. C. Holland, through his attorney, John Carter, jr., for $250 damages for the alleged crippling of his horse by falling into a hole on North Main street, last November. The accident was occasioned by the condition of the streets near Robert's Memorial Hall, and was caused, it is alleged, by neglect of the city. The matter was delayed by the fact that a compromise has been pending. The Council committee, together with the city attorney and city engineer, had recommended a compromise to which Mr. Holland agreed, but when the matter was presented to the Board of Aldermen, the matter hung fire, hence the suit.

THE TEST THAT TELLS.

The Test of Time. Many Alexandria People Have Made This Tet.

Years ago this Alexandria citizen told in a public statement the benefit derived from Doan's Kidney Pills.

The statement is now confirmed—the testimony complete. Instances like this are numerous. They doubly prove the merit of Doan's Kidney Pills. Can any Alexandria reader demand more convincing proof? It's Alexandria testimony—it may be investigated.

Mrs. Anine Scott, 110 Prince street, strong friend to Doan's Kidney Pills Alexandria, Va., says: "I am the same today, as I was in 1910 when I publicly told of the cure they had made for me. This cure has been lasting, but I occasionally use Doan's Kidney Pills as a preventive. I had pains in my back and I could not rest well. In the morning I always felt tired and worn out, and I also had dizzy spells. Doan's Kidney Pills did such good world that it is a pleasure to recommend them to other kidney sufferers."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's and take no other. 2.

"CORPSE" PUTS END TO INQUEST

Man Supposed to be Dead Only Knocked Out by Wife.

Suffolk, Va., March 6.—All preparations for an inquest over the body of Tom Ruffin, colored, suddenly ceased Sunday afternoon when the "corpse" got out of the carriage and entered the police station. Ruffin, who had been drinking, went home and started after his wife with a good-sized rock. He missed her, but she, picking up the same rock, aimed straight, inflicting a terrible wound on Ruffin's temple, and knocking him unconscious.

Her friends, unable to resuscitate Ruffin, advised her to give herself up to the authorities. She did so at once, protesting with tears that she didn't mean to kill him.

Some plans for an inquest were made at headquarters, when Ruffin, who had "come to," in for treatment.

Elopement.

Norfolk, Va., March 6.—Because her parents thought her too young to marry, Miss Jessie Gregory Baxter, the 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Baxter, told them she was going to the theatre Saturday night when she really went to Elizabeth City. There, just as the town clocks were striking midnight, she and William Andrew Dunn were married in the parlors of the Southern hotel by the Rev. Mr. Plylee.

Mr. Dunn is assistant foreman of the Norfolk and Western railway shops at Lamber's Point and lives in thirty-eighth street.

Mr. and Mrs. Baxter's only objection to the match was that their daughter was too young.

Marriage Follows Suit.

Norfolk, Va., March 6.—J. R. Legum, who figured prominently in a breach of promise damage suit in the city courts several days ago, married Miss Rosa Legum, Sunday afternoon in the synagogue at Old Point Comfort, Va.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Canter, rabbi of the Eleventh street synagogue, who accompanied them from Berkley.

J. R. Legum and wife, relatives of the couple, acted as best man and matron of honor.

After the ceremony a 6 o'clock dinner was served in the Chamberlin Hotel to the party and guests.

MEASLES IN RICHMOND.

Over Four Thousand Cases Since November.

Richmond, Va., March 6.—Forty-nine cases of measles, reported yesterday, and 74 cases reported Tuesday, bring the total since the epidem. began, in November, to 4,187. There have been less than 12 deaths.

The local health officers do not expect the malady to disappear until late in April. All local records for measles have been smashed by the present epidemic, nearly twice the number of cases being reported than in any year heretofore.

President Wilson yesterday received cablegrams of congratulations on his induction into office from many European rulers and from Presidents of a number of South American republics. All of the messages were phrased formally, and conveyed the good wishes of their senders for a successful administration for Mr. Wilson.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Old-fashioned routine at the executive offices was rudely shaken today when President Wilson held his first official cabinet meeting. In the first place, no visitors were shooed away form the building—indeed they were permitted to linger about corridors and see the new statesmen as they entered. The big crowd that availed itself of this innovation gave Secretary Bryan a good round of applause as hes talked in. Another bran new idea was admission of a score of photographers into the cabinet room to "snap" the President and his advisers as they were seated about the table. "Jeffersonian simplicity" of the administrattion was reflected in the cabinet officers themselves. Every one of them came afoot from his office, even if a wet snow was falling at the time.

Two more members of President Wilson's cabinet took the oath of office today. They were Attorney General James R. McReynolds, and Secretary of the Treasury William G. McAdoo. Reynolds was sworn in at the Department of Justice at 10:15 a. m., by Justice Charles H. Robb, of the District of Columbia Court of Appeals, in the presence of Assistant Attorney Generals Harr, Adkins and Fowler. McReynolds took a strange precedent by refusing toilet newspaper men be present. Justice Chas. E. Hughes, of the United States Supreme Court, swore in McAdoo as Secretary of the Treasury at 10:30 o'clock in the presence of all the bureau chiefs of the department and a score of newspaper men. Both members of the cabinet immediately assumed the duties of their office.

Washington, March 6.—It was reported today that Byron R. Newton, of New York, will be named as one of the assistant secretaries of the Treasury by Secretary McAdoo.

Newton is a veteran newspaper man and magazine writer. For the last year and a half he has been identified with the Wilson campaign, before the convention as publicity agent and afterwards as an assistant to Vice-Chairman McAdoo, of whom he has been an intimate personal friend for years.

That the post of Commisioner General immigration now held by Daniel J. Keefe, would be tendered by President Wilson to State Attorney Anthony Caminetti, of California, former Congressman and Progressive Democratic leader, was stated an authority today. Caminetti led the Wilson fight in his state last year and has been the progressive Democratic leader in the California senate ever since he retired from Congress 20 years ago. He is strongly committed to the policy of Asiatic exclusion. His appointment has been urged by Secretary of the Interior Lane it was under stood.

Commissioner Edgar E. Clark renominated yesterday by President Wilson as Interstate Commerce Commissioner, was today elected chairman of the commission by his colleagues. He will serve for one year. Clark succeeds former Commissioner Franklin K. Lane, the new secretary of the Interior, as chairman.

Major General Leonard Wood will remain chief of staaff of the army through an order issued by President Wilson, it was announced at the War Department today. General Wood's appointment by President Taft to serve four years expires in one year and five months. Announcement today of his continuance of head of the army was taken by army officers to mean that he will serve the balance of his original appointment.

Taft's veto of the sundry civil appropriation bill during the last hours of Congres swil lseriously embarrass several public projects. Work will be halted on numerous public buildings for which appropriations under "continuing contracts" were carried in the measure. River and harbor work in many states must also stop, it was declared, until money is provided.

Held Under Bail of $2,000.

Fredericksburg, Va., March 6.—Samuel B. Richardson, charged with having betrayed Nona Ball, aged 16 years, was sent on to the grand jury and bailed in the sum of $2,000 for his appearance on the 1st day of the April term of the Corporation Court, with Judge Alvin T. Embrey as security.
